Step 1: Click “Login”

The screenshot shows the VocFit.com homepage. The browser address bar displays 'www.vocfit.com'. The navigation menu includes 'HOME', 'ABOUT', 'SUPPORT', 'VIDEO LIBRARY', and 'LOGIN'. The 'LOGIN' link is circled in red. Below the navigation menu, there are three images: a man in a green lab coat and blue hairnet, two men in blue shirts in a warehouse setting, and a man in a white shirt working at a computer workstation. Below the images, there is text about synchronous tech support availability and contact information.

- Once taken to the next page, fill out all of your information including the email that you would like your account to be under
- Once you have entered the information, click the red “Register” button at the bottom left of the screen
- If you complete registration and get an error there may be a few issues:
  1. There may be an account already created with the email you are using
  2. Try logging in with that email and clicking “forgot password” if you do not remember the password associated with this account
